

As a federally insured credit union, our mortgage lending staff is required to obtain a Mortgage Loan Originator number. This number signifies that our lenders have met the criteria required by regulators to act as a mortgage lender.

Consumers are encouraged to ensure the mortgage lender they are working with has a Mortgage Loan Originator number. This can be done by accessing the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System (NMLS) website at www.nmlsconsumeraccess.org. The NMLS website contains information on the purpose of the NMLS, licensing information, and the employment history of your mortgage loan officer.
